

PECB Certified ISO 55001 Transition

Become acquainted with the differences between ISO 55001:2014 and ISO 55001:2024

Why should you attend?

The PECB ISO 55001 Transition training course provides a comprehensive overview of the key updates in the new version of ISO 55001, which was published in July 2024, ten years after the first edition. These updates introduce a number of minor changes that organizations certified to or aligned with ISO 55001 should be aware of. While the core structure and framework of the standard remain largely the same, the revisions highlight emerging trends and areas for improvement in asset management systems (AMS).

The training course focuses on introducing several key updates, including a stronger focus on sustainability and climate change, and updates on life cycle management, ensuring a more comprehensive approach to asset performance. Additionally, the course elaborates the changes made to the terminology, refined requirements around leadership and planning, and the improved alignment of ISO 55001 with related ISO management system standards.

Upon completing the training course, you will be eligible to sit for the exam. If you successfully pass the exam, you can apply for the "PECB Certified ISO 55001:2024 Transition" credential. This internationally recognized certificate demonstrates that you possess the knowledge and professional capabilities to transition and update an AMS in line with the revised ISO 55001:2024 requirements.
